here!

These Flowers
Are From Oak-
hurst Park. They Used To Smell
Like Honey.
They Are Now

Dry But They Still

Contain ^{the} most magical magic that ever walked
Apart Of A Different

Project In This Book.

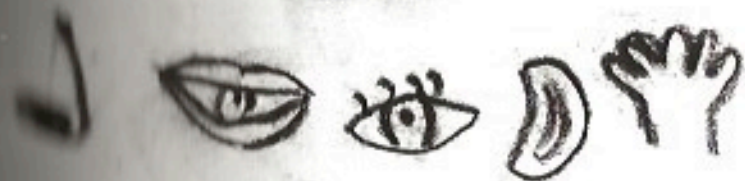

I noticed the sign

L E E R

I can hear the sound of charcoal writing
on parchment.

I feel the sticky
glue on my fingers

Spotlight

I feel fine

I am a flower bright as the sun well atleast I was. Now I'm dark as the gross color brown. What do I do? I'm dry. Not wet.

I'm as dry as a desert.
Not wet like the ocean.
And now I'm dead.

The flowers are dead

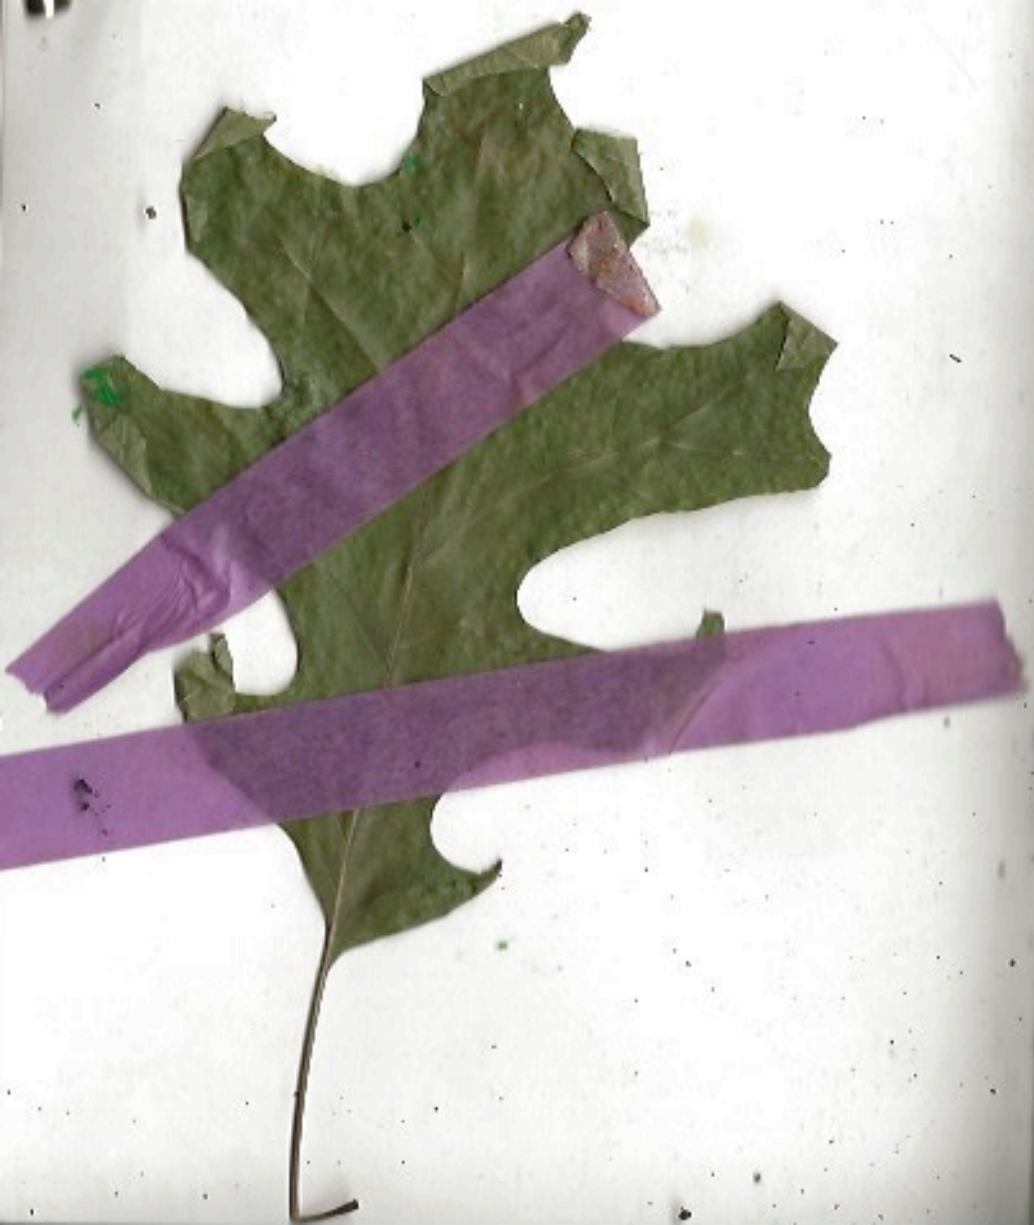

The flowers are dry

The flowers are dry

The flowers get picked

I found
A wild woodchip
that is crumbly
on the back but initially soft and smooth on the front. you can test this by sliding your foot
across the woodchip

this is a very dusty dirt that I found in a patch
in the park but it can be very messy
so please don't

Dirt from mining rocks = Great plastic = gold
seeds for planting
