

Days Pit

- I love my drawing. It's abstract and colorful.

- Stella G

- It gives me a wonder ful vibe. I just scribble around.

Goga Pit

It is hexagonal. It is filled with molch. I played here with my sister once.

Baseball dugout

It has a wooden bench and is surrounded by wire fence. I imagine it holds balls and bats. The players wait to play.

Day 2

Mask

It is a M95. It is black. It looks and probably feels like mine. It is covered in dirt.

Storm drain

It is a dip in the ground made of stone. In the middle there is a concrete grate.

The sky
It is blue. It has a faint cloud. There are birds. They fly to the trees on the side.

My Reflection -

My drawing is supposed to symbolize becoming something new; because the leaves are changing colors and becoming.

- Gaga Gaga ball is great. I like to play it every night.
 - Basketball is for the brother group. I love to watch. The ground is dirty and sandy. I like to eat grass and sunflower seeds. I love to catch ball.
 - Masks are hard to breathe through. Sometimes the mask is dirty.
 - Gulls are fun to play in and roll up and down. It goes to the sewer.

My Waterfall By Maggie.H

I really like drawing nature, generally along with a body of water. I don't really know why. But whenever I draw this, I feel calm; lost in my own world. I am eager to draw something else. This is how I feel drawing nature.

If I were telling someone something about my classroom it would be the Calendar. I would share this because it has the days of the week in Spanish. Another item I would tell someone about is the feelings sign. It says the feelings in Spanish. The last thing I would tell someone is the earth and flags on the door. I would share this because it represents a lot of people.
